Volleyball is not a hobby, but a passion for me. As I was growing up, volleyball wasn't as big in South Metro Georgia as it is now, so I wasn't introduced to the sport until I entered high school. I played JV my first year and we were county champs. Then, I was bumped up to Varsity that year, after my JV season ended. I played my remaining years on Varsity at Eagle's Landing High School, and was the team captain my senior year. During my time at ELHS, we were ranked 1-2 in our area and made it to State each year. I was nominated for Player of the Year in 2007, but didn't win.

I played club volleyball for Northlake's 16-1 team, where I played middle and was coached by Coach Singo.

Being only 5'5" in high school, I surprisingly played OH/M and looked forward to playing volleyball at the collegiate level. Due to two knee injuries, I did not go on to play collegiate volleyball, but I did have the opportunity to work alongside Mike Webster, Ada Bazin, and Tami Audia at Georgia State University.

As GSU's manager, I was able to get hands-on training during high-level drills and learn common techniques at the college level. It was a difficult task to assist in drills when I knew I should've been on the court, but it was a humbling and character building experience.

I have a Bachelor's Degree with a minor in Spanish from Georgia State University. I enjoy a good laugh, food and trying new things. When I'm not coaching, I'm spending time with my daughter, exploring the city, attending a concert or watching a good flick on Netflix.
